

Art World

Editors' Picks: 11 Things Not to Miss in New York's Art World This Week

Here's what should be on your agenda.

Sarah Cascone, September 17, 2018

Kirschenbaum, Monument to the Earth, 1984. Image courtesy of Postmasters.

10. "Kirschenbaum" at Postmasters

Over the course of his career, Bernard Kirschenbaum went from collaborating on architecture and design with Buckminster Fuller to being among the first artists to show with a young Paula Cooper to ushering algorithmic art out of his Minimalist vocabulary using early computer logic. His posthumous debut at Postmasters spans the intimate and the monumental in pursuit of what mathematicians and computer scientists would call "elegant solutions" to complex problems—something we could all use a lot more of right now.

Location: Postmasters, 54 Franklin Street Price: Free

Time: Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m., with hours extended to 8 p.m. on Thursdays

—Tim Schneider