#MustSee: Ruben Natal-San Miguel's “Women R Beautiful” Opens Sat in NYC

WOWlebrity, and master street photographer, Ruben Natal-San Miguel has a big NYC show coming this week with 50 fab photographs featuring fierce females!

If you follow The WOW Report, you've seen Ruben's working shooting RuPaul's Drag Race queens, DragCon as well as Pride parades and other LGBTQ events.

His new show is called Women R Beautiful.

Photographer Gary Winogrand created iconic (and in today's woke culture somewhat problematic) series called, Women Are Beautiful. Winogrand's idea of female beauty has been criticized as restricted and—in terms of race, age, and sexuality—very narrowly defined and his style seems invasive and objectifying, indifferent to the discomfort he imposes on his subjects.

The white male gaze is getting challenged with a new look through Ruben's eyes. Women R Beautiful comments on and revisits Winogrand's project for a new 2020 audience.

The exhibit opens this Saturday, March 14, 6-8 PM at Postmasters Gallery in lower Manhattan and runs through April 25, 2020.
