Chinese Democracy

When: Opens Saturday, February 16, 6–8 pm

Where: Postmasters (459 West 19th Street, Chelsea, Manhattan)

What is “Chinese democracy” supposed to be — a pun? If you want to find out, then be sure to check out New York–based Italian artist Federico Solmi’s exhibition at Postmasters Gallery, mysteriously titled Chinese Democracy and the Last Day on Earth. Replete with crazy videos, crazy paintings, and crazy drawings, this outlandish show comically explores the decline of all Western civilizations through a buffet of symbolic characters and apocalyptic scenarios. —JDS
